

Emmanuel Ayanyemi

Junior Full-stack Web Developer

I am a web developer. who enjoys getting to find out about and fixing new bugs. I enjoy good discourse and am always inquisitive. I love building intricate designs and sound logic for effective user experience on a web pages. Also a kindergarten ESL teacher. I use to say I am not particular about a particular programming language, although I find myself working with PHP and JAVASCRIPT more. I simply love solving problems and finding easier methods of writing reusable and organized code.
